The Practicum & Internship Site Directory

Revised August 19, 2020
Please note:

This Directory contains the department’s listing of Clinical Mental Health Counseling Practicum and Internship sites in alphabetical order.

When arranging for your personal, face-to-face interview, we recommend that you confirm the agency street address and suite number before your appointment and bring a resume.

Also, please understand that supervisors and positions at these sites can change frequently. The information in this directory is updated on a regular basis, but we cannot guarantee it is free from errors.

If you find any of the following contact information is incorrect, please contact Administrative Assistant, azucca@jcu.edu, so we can make necessary changes.

Children, youth, families in a range of programs-residential, day treatment, adoption, foster care, outpatient clinic, community and patient education, school-based community services. Outpatient family and individual counseling; emphasis on children.

Providing internships to social work, counseling, marriage and family therapy, and other students is an important aspect of Beech Brook’s commitment to remain a vital learning organization. Field education is where students learn more about their chosen profession. This includes, but is not limited to, mastering how to apply theories from the classroom to daily mental health practice with children and families.

Beech Brook is dedicated to students and interns for three major reasons: 1) Students bring enthusiasm and new ideas to the organization, 2) Students frequently become future agency employees, and 3) Students ultimately advance the professions they represent.

Relative to student opportunities at Beech Brook, the agency primarily provides field experiences for undergraduate and graduate social work interns, as well as for graduate students in counseling. The latter includes both practicums and internships. Assignments for all are tailored to their level of education and discipline.

Beech Brook’s student internship program starts with a pre-placement interview to discern fit, and, if mutually agreeable, a field placement is arranged. In general, the field placement consists of: 1) an orientation to the agency and to the department or departments to which the student is assigned, 2) visits to at least three programs to begin to obtain a better understanding of the agency as a whole, 3) shadowing, whenever feasible, 5) group supervision, 6) individual supervision, and 7) access to agency-wide clinical and other trainings. Additionally, at least once a semester, all students and interns meet as a group for sharing and training designed specifically for them.

Assigned Beech Brook supervisors have appropriate licensure. They work closely with each student and the applicable college or university to promote and evaluate professional growth and development.

Case Western Reserve University - University Health & Counseling Services
220 Sears Library Building, 10900 Euclid Avenue
Cleveland, OH 44106
http://students.case.edu/counseling

Contact Person:
Jessica Lombardi, MA, LPCC
(216) 368-5872
jessica.lombardi@case.edu

For the 2020-21 academic year, Case Western Reserve University’s University Health & Counseling Services (UH&CS) is proud to offer a Crisis and Care Management internship training position for graduate students in the field of counseling. We are a learn-by-doing internship site, using the practitioner-scholar model of training, with a commitment to evidence-based interventions. Across all areas, including crisis management, referral coordination, individual therapy, group counseling, and outreach, we focus on the provision of ethical service delivery within a brief treatment model. In addition, it is critical to us as a department to provide culturally relevant services to diverse groups of students and to help our trainees gain ongoing multicultural competencies. Direct supervision provided by an LPCC-S clinician. Counselor Interns are expected to provide 18-20 hours of service per week for approximately 38 weeks; this totals approximately 615 hours of service. All part-time trainees have time off during all University holidays, when campus is closed (weather, winter break, etc.) and dates when CWRU students are out of classes (fall break, spring break, etc.). During the 2020-21 training year, the position will begin on August 13 and 14 for an intensive orientation and training retreat on site. Trainees will then begin their regular service the following week and continue through May 6, 2020, which is the last day of spring semester final exams at CWRU. The intern selected for this position will be a member of a multidisciplinary staff consisting of Physicians, Nurses, Counselors, Social Workers, Medical Assistants, and Psychologists. The counseling internship program is designed to help counselors-in-training begin to develop their overall counseling style, improve their crisis intervention skills, learn how to work in a short-term model of care, advance their case conceptualization skills, practice coordination of care, hone their outreach/presentation skills, and grow in additional personal and professional areas. To be considered for this internship, please submit a current curriculum vitae (CV) and a letter of interest. Your cover letter should address your educational background in mental health, your interest in our site, your interest and/or understanding of “integrated healthcare,” and any specific clinical skills you wish to develop during your training year. Please submit these application materials to Dr. Andrew Katz, PhD, Interim Director of Training for UH&CS, via email: Andrew.D.Katz@case.edu. Qualified applicants will be contacted for an interview.

We are currently accepting 2nd year Masters level social work and counseling students who are currently enrolled in a CACREP and/or CSWE accredited institution. The following is an overview of the trauma therapy department internship. Interns will deepen their knowledge of trauma informed, evidenced based therapeutic work with individuals who have experienced a trauma within the realm of domestic violence and/or child abuse. Development of a knowledge base around domestic violence and child abuse will be done through readings, online trainings, consultation with therapy department staff and supervisor, staff trainings and observation of other agency programs. Engage children, adolescents and adults in trauma informed individual and group behavioral health therapy. Learn to identify necessary outside supports for clients engaged in therapy services including but not limited to: psychiatric services, support groups, case management, legal advocacy, etc. Develop strong skills around appropriate and ethical record keeping. At the conclusion of the internship, interns are expected to create a short presentation to highlight what they have learned throughout the course of the internship. Interns will work from DVCAC’s administrative offices located on Payne Ave. (or satellite sites, as needed) and will be able to complete their expected internship hours between the hours of 9a-7p M-TH and 9a-5p Fridays. If you are interested in an internship at the Domestic Violence and Child Advocacy Center please forward your resume/CV to internships@dvcac.org.

*Evergreen Empowerment Group is a children &family advocacy firm providing “wrap around” mental health and community services. We offer full wrap around services which gives students a wide range of areas to practice. Our overall goal is to prepare students in becoming an integral part of rebuilding our society by first empowering families through mental health awareness and community advocacy. Our goal is to prepare students in becoming effective community helpers. We teach them how to contribute positively to society by empowering families. We incorporate a broad range of theoretical approaches to assist students’ development into the kind of helpers the world so desperately needs. In order to achieve this, we fully prepare students with shadowing, mentoring, weekly training, hands on management support and encouragement to assist students in making the transition from student to professional therapist.
Flexible hours, including evenings and weekends, peer mentorship, shadowing, weekly training and supervision.
We provide therapy to the entire family unit, which includes couples and families. In addition, we provide domestic violence awareness, parenting and anger management group sessions. Students will have both opportunities for direct and community practices as well.*

The Counseling Center at Kent State University invites applications for clinical internships for the Fall 2020-Spring 2021 semesters for doctoral students in Counselor Education or master’s students in Clinical Mental Health Counseling. The internships are designed for 20 hours per week for 32 weeks (16 weeks each semester) with the possibility of some work between semesters if necessary/preferred. Weekly internship hours may be adjusted depending on the specific needs of your internship program. Duties will consist of providing direct counseling services to clients, providing some supervision (if qualified) to counseling center practicum students, administrative duties, and other center-related duties as assigned. Interns may also participate in some school-based clinical mental health counseling at local elementary and secondary schools should the opportunity arise. Interns will have the opportunity to work with individuals from diverse backgrounds and provide services addressing a variety of mental and emotional disorders. The Counseling Center at Kent State is a clinical counseling training facility that provides approximately 4000 hours of clinical counseling services to KSU students and members of the surrounding community annually. It maintains day, evening, and weekend hours and is free-of-charge to KSU students. The Counseling Center utilizes EMR software for scheduling and documentation.

The internship positions are open until filled. Phone and/or in-person interviews will take place within 2 weeks of receiving a completed application. Interested individuals should send a cover letter and current vitae including 2 references to Dr. Jason Miller, Director, The Counseling Center at jmille4@kent.edu At least one of the references should be someone who can speak to the applicant’s clinical abilities (e.g. past practicum instructor, supervisor, counseling faculty). Letters of recommendation are not required but may be requested as the interview process progresses. At this time, the internships are unpaid.

MetroHealth Medical Center’s Trauma Recover Center (MH-TRC)
Bell Greve Building, Suite GG82, 2500 MetroHealth Drive
The MetroHealth TRC has openings for two (2) Counselor Interns to work with members of our community who have who have suffered from trauma, violence, loss and victimization. We are dedicated to promoting healing by providing respectful, compassionate, and effective mental health and medical services. The TRC model is based on the belief, supported by evidence, that people are resilient and can overcome even the greatest challenges when given the right combination of services, support, and non-judgmental care.

Interns will work with mainly adult clients from marginalized populations in group and individual counseling formats at MetroHealth Medical Center. Settings will include office and bedside visits in the hospital. Interns will work closely with the MH-TRC Social Work Coordinators to provide evidence-based, best-practices of care in accordance with the California UCSF-TRC Model founded by Dr. Alicia Boccellari.

Candidates need to have a mature understanding of their own trauma history in order to manage significant vicarious trauma in this internship. Debriefing and self-care opportunities will be provided by your Site Supervisor and other MH-TRC team members.

The Department of Veterans Affairs has implemented a mental health expansion project developed to increase the number of counseling clinicians in the VA across the country. Part of that initiative is providing paid internships for counseling students. At the Louis Stokes Cleveland VA Medical Center we offer two internship positions for students of mental health and addiction treatment. Students in CACREP accredited graduate programs seeking a Professional Counselor license (LPC) are eligible to apply.

What we offer:
• Work in the Veterans Addiction and Rehabilitation Center (VARC)
• Experience working with veterans who have mental health and addiction problems
• 1:1 supervision
• Direct contact hours immediately and consistently
• In-depth training with LPCC-S supervisors
• Group and individual counseling experience
• 600 hours of internship available: 500 of the 600 hours are PAID (any practicum hours would be unpaid)
• Opportunity for training and workshops with experts in Motivational Interviewing, Prolonged Exposure, PTSD, Addictions, and more
• Clinical work in a leading-edge national Gambling Addiction Treatment Program, in addition to Men’s and Women’s substance abuse treatment teams.
• Multidisciplinary teams that include peer support specialists, LPCC’s, Psychologists, Psychiatrists, Social Workers, Nurses, and more
• Experience with electronic record keeping and documentation
• Introduction to the VA healthcare system

Time frame:
Internship from August 2020 through May 2021
*Practicum positions are unpaid and first 100 hours of the internship are unpaid

Other things to consider:
• Practicum/Internship positions are only available in the addictions clinic. Therefore it would be helpful, but not necessary, to have an interest and knowledge about addictions.
• The student would need to be able to work 20 to 25 hours per week between the hours of 8:00 am to 4:30 pm. There are no evening or weekend hours available.

Winston Consulting & Counseling was established in 2017 with the primary focus of helping individuals, families, and couples find emotional stability to increase happiness and success across the lifespan. We service children, teens and adults with mental health concerns that interfere with the quality of daily living.

We have expanded our services to work with local school districts to help address mental health needs within a school setting. We partner with local districts to provide contractual services for students and consultative services to support interventions and district objectives.

We are looking for recent graduates or upcoming internship students to help train and are willing to learn about school based and office settings. We will also provide small base pay for internship students with CT status.
